DEPUTY SHERIFF TOM LEE. SOMETHING ABOUT NEW YORK'S RICH-

EST CHINAMEN, Details of Chinese Habits at Second Hand-Monday in the Queer Mott Street Calony-Tom Lee's Newspaper and Bulletin Board. A long-queued, moon-eyed Chinaman, car one night last week, and as he took his seat the conductor said to a passenger by his side: 'That Chinaman owns five laundries,"

"How do you know?" he was asked,
"Oh, I know," he said; "I was for a long time collector of rents for a Broadway real estate firm, and one of the estates we managed the charge of setting fire to a barn. comprised several houses in Mott street, in the Four years ago Peters was a fine-looking middle of the Chinese quarter. I made many collecting tours there, and I learned much about the Chinese that I never saw in print, with her father in the backwoods of Indian-For instance, it seemed to me that many China-men arrive here poor, and are fed and housed avery influential man among Chinamen. He is a Christian, a cilizen, a Republican, a deputy sheriff, and is married to a German girl who was born down town somewhere in that neighborhood. She has borne him a lovery little daughter, of whom Tom Lee is justivery proud. He take pigeon English, but he dresses as you and I do, except that he wears his queue, Very many among the three thousand Chinese in New York retain their pigtalls, not because they cannot go back to China without them, or because of any heathen notion about them, but because a good many Chinemen who were eigarette or cigar makers in Cuba have come hers from Cuba without their queues. They were rid of those appendages in Cuban prisons, where they were sent for wronsdoing, and it is considered best by respectable Chinamen' of to cut off the queue.

appendages in Cuban prisons, where they were sent for wrongdome, and it is considered best by respectable Chinameabnot court off the quene, so as to obviate the necessity of explaining where and how it disappeared.

Tom Lee is one of the incorporators of the Lone Wee Tong Eng It Society, Mr. Price continued, adding, That means the United Brother Society, It is a mutual benefit secret organization corresponding to our Free Mason society. It has 400 members. It provides for the sick, buries the dead, and, so far as it can decides disputes between members. Most of the members are laundrymen, and one of the rules is that no laundry shall be established within two blocks of another.

Lawyer Price offered to introduce the reporter to his client, and the two entered Most street, where nearly every black, fell hat was either touched or removed in honor of the counsellor. Most street has become the quarters Chinese. Chinose signs are conspicuous in front of every third or fourth house on either side of the thoroughfare. Many are in red on white backgrounds or in black on red backgrounds, but others are gorgeous contrivances, carved and guided in single perpendicular columns.

A Chinaman on one side of the street saw a fair-haired bine-eved child at play across the way. He hurried over, caught it up in his arms, and kiesed it. In a celiar close at hand were several Chinamen who appeared to be cooking various compounds in iron poles on a kitchen range. From among them a rosy firsh woman, young, and clad in a new clean musin dires, came up to the street, paid in hand, and disappeared second or third man carried a parcei done up in musin or brown paper and intered like a pack of fire-rackers. Lawyer Price explained that it was Monday; that Monday is the humbers that he was been paid on the wallover Tom Lee's grocery thousands of plak and red slips of paper covered with Chinese characters are pasted. They was touch and on the wallover Tom the basement as higher store, and on the wallover Tom the basement on the corner, Over

Chinaman has to say that he wants all the other Chinaman to know is pasted up in this place. "Help wanted." and notices of "removals." as well as notifications of the establishment of new laundries and the purchase of other laundries, seem to be the principal matters published, but it is evident that the newspaper is more than a mere advertising directory. A few big and gandy posters are scattered among the little ones, and are evidently of a different nature. Lawyer Price found Citizen Tom Lee in his store and uncestioned him in a serie of bigeon

GHOSTS OF THE BLUE-EYED SIX. Visions that are Driving Mad the Man Whose

LEBANON, Pa., July 3 .- There is in the county jail here a prisoner who at one time was famous witness in these parts. He is Joseph Peters, 28 years old, of slight build, with dark eyes, close-cropped black hair, and blotched with nothing American about him, but the cut der of old Joseph Raber to secure $20,000 of inof his trousers, entered a Third avenue horse surance money sent five men to the gallows, and furnished the details of one of the most graphic murder stories of modern times. Peters now says he is haunted by the ghosts of those five victims of the noose, and the effect of his terrible visions has nearly wrecked his mind. He was taken to jall a few days ago on
